

Looking back, much has happened in the past year! A year ago, we were just beginning to remove the powerhouse and the north abutment of the dam.

Here is a photo looking at the site from January 20, 2008. Notice that the Clark Fork River has not yet been diverted into the Bypass Channel (that happened on 3/18/08).

Here is a photo of the Milltown Dam and Powerhouse, 1/22/08:

In contrast, here a photo of the Site taken almost exactly 1 year later, 1/20/09:

And here is a photo of one of the last bucket loads as the Milltown Dam spillway was removed on 1/20/09.
